TWO CENTS

PITTSBURGH STEEL COMPANY TO ERECT WORKMEN'S HOMES

Plans to Utilize The Old
McMahan Homestead
For That Purpose

WILL SELL DWELLINGS TO MEN

Realizing the necessity for more dwelling houses in Monessen the management of the Pittsburgh Steel Company is about to inaugurate a building campaign, which in the very near future will add some 40 or more desirable homes to that thriving borough.

Superintendent Mogan, of the steel plant, has for a number of years advocated the idea of the firm erecting desirable homes, and then selling them to the workmen on easy payment plans.

On Thursday last many of the directors of the company were in Monessen and looked over the old McMahan homestead, which the company had purchased a few years ago, and were highly and favorably impressed with the location as a site for desirable dwellings. Moreover the borough of Monessen contemplates extending the sewer and water systems out Tenth street which leads past the McMahan property, and which would bring two great conveniences right to the door of the homes to be erected there.

According to present plans the company proposes to erect from 30 to 40 houses as a start. About 15 of these will be what is known as high grade houses that superintendents, foremen and better paid men can afford to buy. The others will be high grade houses of five and six rooms, bath and all up-to-date improvements for comfortable living, and these also will be sold to the workmen. According to the plan the men need have only $300 to $500 to secure one of these homes to live in, the balance to be paid in a similar manner to Liberty bond payments.

These houses will only be a start for the company, as there are over seven acres of land in the McMahan homestead, all of which could be utilized for dwelling houses. Once the plan is completed the company is expected to go into the home building undertaking in an extensive manner, in which the employees will be the ones to profit. The success of the American Steel and Wire company venture at Donora in which over 100 concrete houses were built for the accommodation of employees, had considerable influence in bringing the directors of the Pittsburgh Steel company to see the necessity and the desirability of such a move, which is expected to have such a beneficial effect in improving housing conditions for their men.

SUES BOROUGH FOR PERSONAL DAMAGES

The borough of Coal Centre is defendant in a suit in the county courts in which William and Jennie Pierce are plaintiffs. It is a claim for damages for personal injuries sustained by Mrs. Pierce when she fell over a wire stretched along the curb on Spring street in front of the property of William Long. Mrs. Pierce was crossing the street from one side to the other when she tripped on the wire and in falling suffered a broken arm.

WILL JOIN THE AMERICAN LEGION

At the meeting of the Charleroi returned soldiers and sailors last evening in the Charleroi Savings and Trust Company Hall many new members were received. The out of town men are coming in rapidly, Dunlevy made a good showing last night and it is hoped that town will soon go over the top with 100 per cent membership.

The members decided at last night's meeting without an opposing vote to apply for a Charter in the American Legion. The American Legion has formed many posts recently in Allegheny County, but Charleroi hopes to get the first Charter for Washington County. Reports were received that the Monessen and Donora Posts were organizing rapidly but Charleroi hopes to be first in securing their charter. The name of the organization under its new charter will be Charleroi Post No. 1, Pennsylvania Division, American Legion. The charter will be left open for all new members until September. The Post will reorganize and elect such officers as are required.

A Committee on Grievances and Employment was appointed, consisting of George H. Hott, Chairman, Harry Hudspeth, Louis Alterici of Charleroi, L. E. Morris of Lock No. 4, and Diano Rosini of Dunlevy. The purpose of this committee is to receive and investigate all cases where a soldier is refused his old job back. The post is prepared to assist men who are entitled to back pay, travel allowance, compensation, bonus, re-education, and allotments and allowances never received. The Post does not obligate its members to join in any parade, celebration, picnic, nor even to attend meetings, although it desires as large attendance as possible. The matter of a dance and picnic at Eldora Park met with favorable discussion and it is probable that these events will be held during the summer.

Moonlight Picnic.
Members and friends of the Star Class of the First Christian church will hold a moonlight picnic Thursday evening June 12. Meet at church at 8 o'clock. All are urged to be present.

Liberty Bond Secured By A Slick Swindler

A clever swindler is reported to be working the Monongahela valley securing Liberty bonds from unsuspecting victims, giving bogus checks in payment for the same. He is said to be traveling about as agent for a picture concern and is offering the highest prices for Liberty bonds of all issues.

Saturday last he appeared at the home of Mike Hensuey, at Arnold City, and induced Mr. Hensuey to part with his Liberty bond, giving him a check for $99.96 in payment for the same. The check was made out on the Monessen Savings and Trust company and was signed by A. J. Kowall, an unknown party at the banking institution. When Mr. Hensuey handed over the Liberty bond he was informed that they would accept other bonds at their headquarters in room 36 of the Fifth Avenue hotel, Monessen by his manager A. Johnson.

Mr. Hensuey went to Monessen on Saturday evening to have his check cashed but was informed that the party signing the check was unknown at the bank and did not have an account there. The cashier of the bank on being informed of the transaction accompanied the victim of the bogus check to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where Proprietor McCaill informed them that he did not have a room 36 in his house nor any one registered there by the name of Johnson. It was a clear case of swindle and the Arnold City man is out his $100 Liberty bond.

Mysterious Shooting Near Belle Vernon Sunday Morning

Clyde Nelson of Gibsonton is at his home suffering from a gunshot wound in the back of his neck, while Fritz Riley, motorcycle policeman for North Belle Vernon is in the lockup waiting a hearing on a charge of doing the shooting.

There appears to be something mysterious about the shooting, which occurred early Sunday morning near the Allen farm, out from Belle Vernon. Nelson was driving an automobile at a fair rate of speed according to his story when three men in a motor cycle with a side car drove up behind him and commanded him to stop. They did not seem to be officers and Nelson fearing he was being accosted by highwaymen put on more speed and moved out the road at a rapid rate. When near the Robert Allen farm a shot was fired through the rear of Nelson's car and struck him in the neck. He brought his car to a slower speed and one of the men jumped on the running board, whereupon the wounded man asked what was wanted and why he was shot, and the stranger said, "You should have stopped."

Nelson was bleeding from his wounds and when the men saw his condition they said for him to go to the nearest physician and they would return to Belle Vernon. They said they were state officers.

Nelson turned his car about and drove back to Belle Vernon, stopping at the Moose club to inquire where he could find a physician and members of the organization went with him to the nearest doctor's office. They told Nelson they saw the three men in the motorcycle going past and through Belle Vernon. Europe, is now doing special work. Mr. Nelson is reported as resting very comfortably at his home in Gibsonton, but it seems to be impossible to get any further details concerning the shooting. It is reported that Riley may be taken to Greensburg for a hearing.

For Coroner, Subject to Republican Primary

JAMES T. HEFFRAN

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Coroner at the Primaries September 17, 1919.

If my conduct in the office has been such as to meet with your approval your vote and influence is respectfully solicited.

Major Robert Mountsier, A. R. C., director of the department of publicity of the American Red Cross in Europe, is now doing special work in various countries in Europe. His work will take him to Turkey and Palestine in July.

ARRANGEMENTS ALL MADE FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS' PICNIC

A farewell dinner was given by Mrs. William McBride at her home on Crest avenue, Tuesday evening, in honor of Mrs. E. Silverman. After dinner the evening was spent in social diversions in which "500" was a feature. Mrs. Silverman and family left today for Tarentum, where Mr. Silverman a former employee of the Imperial Glass company, is now employed. They will make their future home in Tarentum.

Advertise that vacant room in the classified column of the Mail.

TO HOLD HEARING ON GRADE CROSSINGS

A hearing will be held before the Public Service Commission in the City-County building, Pittsburgh, Friday morning next at 9:30 o'clock at which time witnesses will be heard with reference to the abolishing of crossings on the highway between Speers and Coal Centre. A number of witnesses from the various communities through which the road passes will be in attendance.

It is the object of the hearing to have all these grade crossings abolished before the road is improved and the hearing on Friday will be the first preliminary step in that direction. The county commissioners as well as the residents along the route hope that the railways company will be directed to make such changes in their tracks as will allow the road to be constructed without any of the numerous crossings which now make it dangerous to ordinary travel.

PASTEBOARD CARTONS FOR BALLOT BOXES

A unique ballot box has been provided for the special road bond election on Tuesday, June 17. Under the law the regular ballot boxes had to be provided for this special election. To have purchased steel boxes would have meant a big expense. Also it was ascertained that even to purchase cardboard cartons, such as could be secured from firms that supply the same, would mean higher cost than seemed necessary.

As a result there was secured from the Hazel Glass company of Washington at a very nominal cost the required number of pasteboard cartons, and they will answer the purpose. The size secured is that used for packing one dozen quart jars. Into each of these cartons can be placed all the ballots and supplies for each election district. Ballot boxes and supplies will be delivered at the same time.

Plenty of Cars Promised by The Street Railway Company

LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

Arrangements are now practically completed for the picnic to be held by the Charleroi public schools at Eldora Park, Friday the 13th inst. The street car company has assured Superintendent Pollock of a sufficient number of cars to carry all the children and their friends to and from the park and if the day is fair the attendance promises to break all records. The schedule as now arranged provides that freight cars for provisions and baskets to leave Second street, Fifth street and Ninth street at 7:45 o'clock, a. m. Cars for the accommodation of the pupils of the Second street, Ninth street and Crest avenue buildings will leave Second street at 8:45 o'clock.

For the accommodation of the Fifth street and high school pupils at 9:45 o'clock.

Returning cars will leave the park at 5 and 6 o'clock.

The following committees have been appointed to look after the pupils of the various buildings as follows:

Fifth Street School—F. C. Stahlman, J. K. Smith, T. M. Faddis, C. S. Bliss, H. R. Frye, T. H. Warrenford, C. C. Stephens, D. R. Hornell.

HONOR WHERE HONOR IS DUE

It is gratifying that all of the twenty-two men in five flying machines who have attempted to cross the Atlantic since May 8 are now alive and well. This is especially true of the gallant Hawker, the man who failed yet is regarded as the chief hero of the whole affair. It is also gratifying that an American flying machine and an American commander were the first to cross the Atlantic. It is further gratifying that this American, Lieut-Commander Read of the No. 4, was allowed to complete the transatlantic flight alone without taking on board at the Azores Commander Towers, the ranking officer of the navy's seaplane fleet. When this delicate question was put up to him Secretary Daniels, who evidently has sporting blood, decided that Reed should go on alone and his decision has been popularly applauded. Thus the honor belongs to Reed, who personally achieved, and not to his ranking officer who reached the Azores behind him.

The Read-Tower question recalls the Schley-Sampson controversy of the Spanish-American war. Schley destroyed the Spanish fleet while Sampson, his ranking officer, was at a distance from the scene and did not know what was taking place. The navy and all the sticklers for strict regularity gave the honor to Sampson, but the great majority of the people gave it to Schley, the actual commander in the victorious battle at sea. Though the two cases are not precisely alike, the present head of the navy is certain of popular approval in now giving the honor where fortune plus efficiency or pluck or both had already placed it.

WHAT WERE THEY FIGHTING FOR?

In these days of many returning soldiers it is interesting to get their viewpoints on a number of things.

One fact is especially noticeable. The great majority of them say the armistice was signed too soon to give the Germans what was coming to them—and the Americans and the Allies should have given the German armies a sound beating and marched to Berlin while they were about it. The understanding President Wilson had was that the armistice was signed on conditions that his fourteen points were to be fulfilled. These summed up his "ideals," as he called them. The Germans also insist that the fourteen points must be followed. The Allies are indifferent to them. Clemenceau rather openly pokes fun at them.

In his Boston speech President Wilson said the American soldiers were fighting for the ideals he laid down in his fourteen points. He said the "war was won by the inspiration of those ideals."

Were the American soldiers fighting for the fourteen points? Or were they fighting to lick the everlasting tar out of the Huns and put them where they couldn't do any damage?

The insolent attitude of the German delegates at the peace conference throws some light on this question—Wichita (Kan.) Beacon.

LAYMEN AS PREACHERS

A most significant movement to make preachers of twenty thousand laymen affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church (South) has just been launched. These men who are business and professional people are to be invested with all the privileges of preachers insofar as their privileges extend to preaching in the rural churches of the denomination. They will attend their business six days in the week and on Sunday they will become preachers. The leaders of the denomination declare the laymen make all the more forceful preachers because they will take the experience of a busy week among busy men into the pulpits with them and their sermons will therefore be practical and to the point.

The idea of enlisting these twenty thousand everyday business and professional men as preachers developed because the church has twenty thousand churches and only five thousand pastors. The rural churches are taken care of by circuit riders, can only visit them every four or five weeks. But, by listing twenty thousand laymen in the work, these laymen can go out into the rural districts and fill the pulpits every Sunday.—Dallas News.

The Galt House of Louisville, Ky., has ended its days as a hotel and now becomes a warehouse. The event is notable because the Galt House was the last "Dickens hotel" to remain standing with the exception of the West Point Hotel. In his "American Notes" published in 1842 Charles Dickens, though critical of this country in many particulars, was generous in praise of a number of the American hotels at which he stopped, saying of the Galt House that he and his party were "as handsomely lodged there as though we were in Paris."

It is said to be matter of record that the American army during its service in France smoked 425,000,000 cigarettes a month. The doughboys found time to win the fight, however, notwithstanding this average indulgence in about 7 cigarettes a day per man—a more temperate indulgence, by the way, than that of many civilians at home.

The leading "German" club of Reading, Pa., greeted the return of the Twenty-Eighth division by hanging out a German flag. We are likely to hear more of that sort of thing as the Presidential election of next year approaches and "German Americans" by the million are counted for their votes by contending parties.

TWO CONCERTS AT THE BATHING BEACH

With afternoon and evening band concerts the bathing beach was somewhat formally dedicated for the season of 1919 on Sunday. In the afternoon the Pittsburgh Steel Products band gave a splendid program and which was listened to by hundreds of people. At the same time the facilities of the beach were utilized by hundreds of bathers and apparently all of them enjoyed themselves to the utmost. In the evening the band with the "World at Home" shows gave another concert, which was even more liberally attended than the one in the afternoon. The Pittsburgh Steel Products band will appear at the beach at other times during the season, Superintendent Mogan and Wikstrom having arranged to give alternate concerts at Monessen, Belle Vernon and Charleroi in turn. This arrangement will prove very delightful to residents of these communities.

MINERS AT VESTA ARE STILL IDLE

The miners who have been on a strike at the Vesta Coal company mine at California for the past seven weeks are still idle. It is reported on reliable authority that the mines will not resume operations until November first next. The miners have lost considerable money by the strike and California business men have suffered in more ways than one. Residents of the California and Coal Centre communities hope that the differences between the men and the company will soon be adjusted and that the mines will soon be placed in operation.

To Keep Young.

The great enemy of youthfulness is the drying-up process, and this is why we should not only keep as much as possible with the young, but should enter into their joys, their plays, with zest and enthusiasm. We should romp and play with them, interest ourselves in the things that delight them, instead of pushing children away from us and restraining them all the time, regarding them as a nuisance and a bore. Children were given us to keep us youthful, to keep our sympathies fresh.

Peculiar Lawsuit.

Here is a queer cause for a law action. A man who was insane determined to throw himself out of the window of an asylum. He made several attempts and was prevented by the servants. Put in a new apartment, he tried again, jumped out of the window, fell on the lawn and injured himself seriously, but, strange to say, the shock cured his mental disorder. At once he sued the officers of the asylum for negligence. The plaintiff was nonsuited.

TEACHERS WILL BE PAID FOR LOST TIME

County Superintendent Cramrine has received notice that Governor Spruill has approved the Palmer bill, which provided that teachers in public schools shall be paid for time lost when schools are closed by reason of an epidemic, such as was experienced last fall.

An unusual situation arose due to the influenza epidemic, which closed the schools of the state, and much controversy arose as to the payment or non-payment of teachers during the time they were kept from their work. Some districts had a specific clause in their contracts which provided that the teachers should not be paid during such an epidemic. Others had contracts that made no such provisions, and upon advice of solicitors for these districts the teachers were paid.

The passage of this bill will render void any clauses in teachers' contracts now existing which provides that teachers shall not be paid during an epidemic when schools are closed.

TEACHERS WILL BE PAID FOR LOST TIME

NEXT WINTER WILL SEE COAL SHORTAGE

J. D. A. Morrow of Washington, D. C., vice president of the National Coal Association, addressed a meeting of the Pittsburgh Coal Association on Tuesday and stated there is every indication of a coal shortage next winter. Up to May 17 there had been a falling off in production as compared with 1918 of about 30 per cent. The principal reason is that industrial consumers have been using coal from their stock piles in the hope that prices will decline.

Mr. Morrow said that domestic consumers and others should begin at once to lay in supplies. Europe will need at least $54,000,000 tons of coal this year. The coal to supply this demand is already beginning to move across the ocean.

SIGN DAMAGED BY HEAVY WIND STORM

The severe wind storm of Saturday night last wrecked about 150 feet of the big electric sign on the river hill, opposite Charleroi, causing quite a loss to the owner, T. L. Dainty. The storm seemed to sweep with fearful velocity over the hill-top, not only wrecking the sign, but likewise uprooting a number of trees. Reports from different sections of the Washington county also indicate that the storm was quite severe at other points.
